First Entry Learning Journal

On the first week of this month, I received a congratulatory Email from Facebook for the scholarship gained at open-Classrooms to undertake Front-end Developer Bachelors Level Diploma. I believe I received this with a reason and a purpose, and I have to do the best I can to finish up all the projects before the set timeline. So far so good I am glad to send my first project today and I will do my best to ensure I send all the other eight remaining projects on time.

My main goal for this scholarship is to ensure I get a great software engineering opportunity in a marvelous organization like Facebook, open-classrooms international, Google, Microsoft, Udacity or any other great institution on this earth.
